Website Evaluation Report

Browser Testing:

Browsers tested:

- Google Chrome
- Mozilla Firefox
- Microsoft Edge

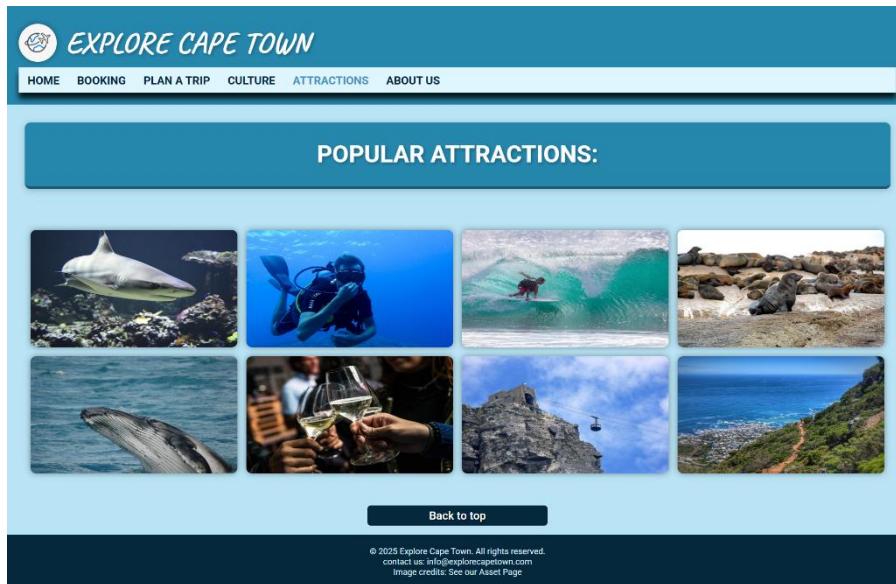

Tests were conducted across three different web browsers; each page was analysed for inconsistencies in colour and formatting. The website is displayed consistently across all the browsers, with no noticeable differences.

Screenshots:

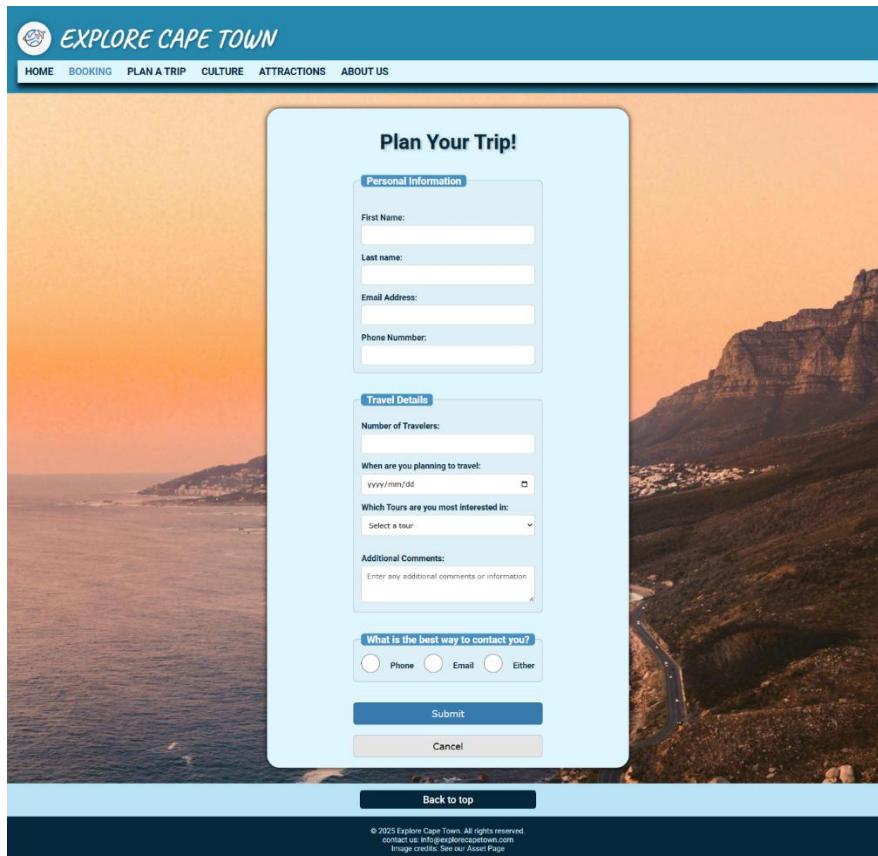

Below two screenshots have been provided for each browser, to showcase consistency over different platforms.

Screen Size Testing:

Devices Tested:

- Samsung Galaxy S8+ (430 x 932)
- iPad Air (820 x 1180)
- PC Monitor (1920 x1080)

Tests were conducted across three different screen sizes. The aim was to test the responsiveness of this webpage, ensuring it adapts to multiple screens sizes. The result of the test was successful as the webpage responds accordingly to different screen sizes.

Below two screenshots have been provided for each devices tested, to showcase responsiveness over different screen sizes. All pages have been tested and is responsive on all three devices.

Religious Diversity

Cape Town is religiously diverse with most citizens identifying as Christian with a fraction of its people identifying as Muslim and other traditional African religions. The city has numerous Christian churches and cathedrals from various denominations. Islam being the second highest religion, and its presence is shown through its many mosques. Cape Town also has significant Jewish community and is home to Hindu, Buddhist and other places of worship.

Historical Background

Cape Town's rich history dates back more than 12 000 years with early human presence found in Peers Cave. During 1652 Jan van Riebeek established Dutch settlement as a way-station for ships. This led to the importation of enslaved people from Indonesia and Madagascar. Great Britain took control in 1806 and later abolished slavery in 1835. Cape Town became a legislative capital in 1910 with a increase in growth and infrastructure development. During Apartheid forced removals had a devastating impact on communities like those in District Six. On 11 February 1990, the release of anti-apartheid leaders, with Nelson Mandela addressing the public from the City Hall balcony after his release from imprisonment. Since 1994, the city has evolved into a key economic and tourist destination.

Traditional Foods

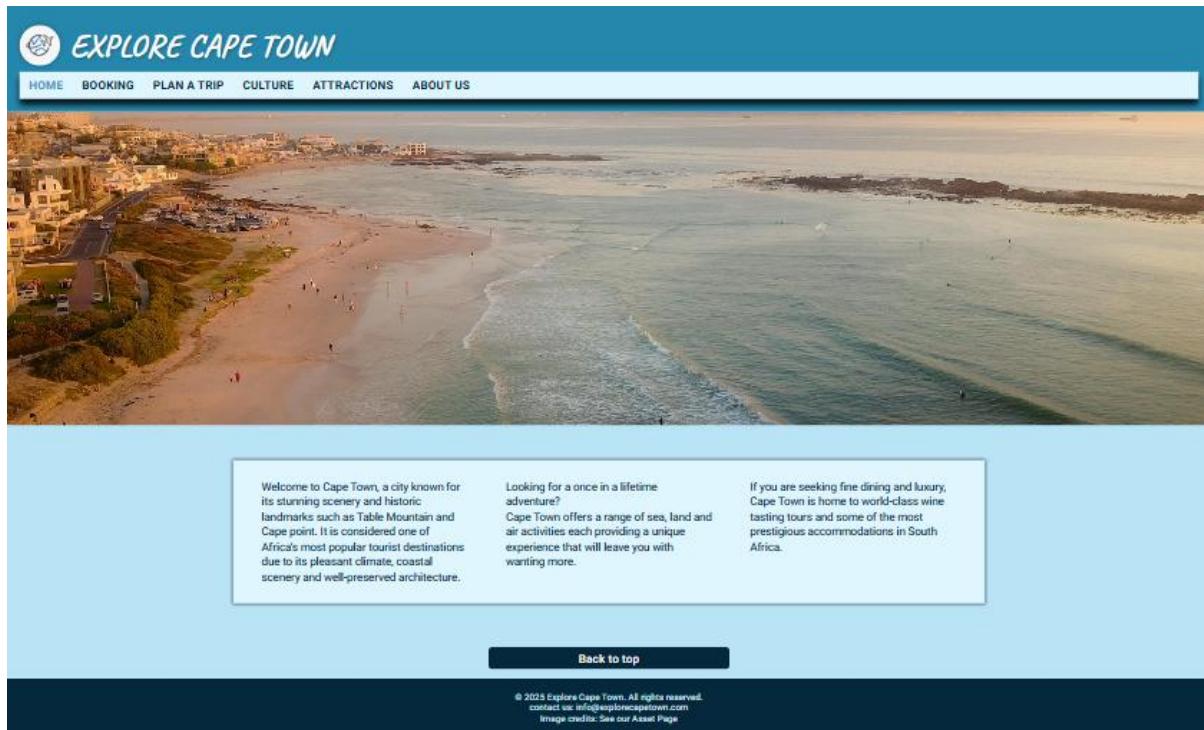

Cape Town is known for its dishes such as Bobotie, a spiced meat dish that dates back to the 17th century, and the Gatsby, a sandwich filled with slap chips which originates from Athlone in 1976. Other treats include cinnamon flavoured koekister alongside with Malva pudding and Cape Brandy Pudding. Cape Town is also home to South Africa's wine industry, with historic wineries such as Groot Constantia and Klein Constantia still operating today.

Home Page:

The screenshot shows the homepage of Explore Cape Town. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for HOME, BOOKING, PLAN A TRIP, CULTURE, ATTRACTIONS, and ABOUT US. Below the navigation is a large, scenic photograph of a coastal town at sunset, with buildings on a hillside overlooking a sandy beach and the ocean. In the center of the page, there are three text boxes. The left box welcomes visitors to Cape Town, noting its stunning scenery and historic landmarks like Table Mountain and Cape Point. It describes it as one of Africa's most popular tourist destinations due to its pleasant climate, coastal scenery, and well-preserved architecture. The middle box discusses various activities such as sea, land, and air adventures, highlighting the unique experience each provides. The right box promotes fine dining and luxury, mentioning world-class wine tasting tours and prestigious accommodations. At the bottom of the page is a dark footer bar containing a "Back to top" button and copyright information: "© 2025 Explore Cape Town. All rights reserved. contact us: info@explorecapeTown.com Image credits: See our Asset Page".

Plan a Trip:

The screenshot shows the "PLAN SMART: SEASONAL GUIDE" section of the Explore Cape Town website. The title is centered above a table. The table has columns for "Activity" and months: Jan - Mar, Apr - Jun, Jul - Sep, and Oct - Dec. The activities listed are Shark Cage Diving, Snorkeling, Surfing, Robben Island Tour, Whale Watching, Wine Tasting in the Vineyards, Table Mountain Cable Car, and Lion's Head Hike. Each activity row contains four cells, each with a checkmark or an X indicating availability or seasonality. The footer of the page includes a "Back to top" button and copyright information: "© 2025 Explore Cape Town. All rights reserved. contact us: info@explorecapeTown.com Image credits: See our Asset Page".

HTML Validation(W3S):

Validations checks were carried out on the HTML of each page to ensure compliance with web standards. After completion of the website, each page underwent a validation check, where any issues were addressed accordingly.

Minor errors and warnings were identified and quickly resolved.

See screenshots of before and after the issues were fixed.

CSS Validation(W3S):

A Validation check was performed on the CSS file of this website (note that only one CSS style sheet was used for all the web pages) This test ensures that the website complies with the web standards.

Only one CSS error was identified and quickly corrected.

Before:

The screenshot shows the W3C CSS Validation Service interface. At the top, it says "The W3C CSS Validation Service" and "W3C CSS Validator results for styles.css (CSS level 3 + SVG)". Below that, a red bar indicates "Sorry! We found the following errors (1)". The error message is: "URL : styles.css 358: table only 'a' can be a unit. You must put a unit after your number [1]" with a cursor at the end of 'a'. A small icon of a person with a gear is next to the URL. Below the error message, there's a link to "Interested in 'developing' your developer skills? The screenshot shows the W3C CSS Validation Service interface. At the top, it says "The W3C CSS Validation Service" and "W3C CSS Validator results for styles.css (CSS level 3 + SVG)". Below that, a green bar indicates "Congratulations! No Error Found.". The message says: "This document validates as CSS level 3 + SVG!". Below this, there's a note: "To show our readers that you've taken the care to create an interoperable Web page, you may display this icon on any page that validates. Here is the XHTML you could use to add this icon to your Web page:" followed by the W3C CSS Valid icon. Further down, there's a note about closing img tags and a link to the developer skills program. At the bottom, it says "Valid CSS Information".

Accessibility Check (Wave Tool):

Accessibility checks were performed on each page of the website ensuring the compliance of the accessibility standards. The wave tool extension was used on google chrome, where errors and warnings were identified and fixed.

Results indicated that some minor changes had to be implemented. This includes low contrast of certain buttons and some issues regarding form labelling and alt image text. The changes were addressed and now compliance with the standard.

Historical Background

Cape Town's rich history dates back more than 12 000 years with early human presence found in Peers Cave. During 1652 Jan van Riebeeck established Dutch settlement as a way-station for ships. This led to the importation of enslaved people from Indonesia and Madagascar. Great Britain took control in 1806 and later abolished slavery in 1833. Cape Town became a legislative capital in 1910 with a increase in growth and infrastructure development. During Apartheid forced removals had a devastating impact on communities like those in District Six. Cape Town was home to a vast majority of anti-apartheid leaders, with Nelson Mandela addressing the public from the City Hall balcony after his release from imprisonment. Since 1994, the city has evolved into a key economic and tourist destination.

Traditional Foods

Cape Town is known for its dishes such as Bobotie, a spiced meat dish that dates back to the 17th century, and the Gatsby, a sandwich filled with slap chips which originates from Athlone in 1976. Other treats include cinnamon flavoured koeksister alongside with Malva pudding and Cape Brandy Pudding. Cape Town is also home to South Africa's wine industry, with historic wineries such as Groot Constantia and Klein Constantia still operating today.

Hands united together

Religious Diversity

Cape Town is religiously diverse with most citizens identifying as Christian with a fraction of it people identifying as Muslim and other traditional African religions. The city has numerous mosques, Hindu and cathedrals from various denominations. Islam being the second highest religion, and its presence is shown through its many mosques. Cape Town also has significant Jewish community and is home to Hindu, Buddhist and other places of worship.

Historical Background

Cape Town's rich history dates back more than 12 000 years with early human presence found in Peers Cave. During 1652 Jan van Riebeek established Dutch settlement as a way-station for ships. This led to the importation of enslaved people from Indonesia and Madagascar. Great Britain took control in 1806 and later abolished slavery in 1833. Cape Town became a legislative capital in 1910 with a increase in growth and infrastructure development. During Apartheid forced removals had a devastating impact on communities like those in District Six. Cape Town was home to a vast majority of anti-apartheid leaders, with Nelson Mandela addressing the public from the City Hall balcony after his release from imprisonment.
